POST COVID SCENARIO

As manufacturing industries are witnessing the cascading effect of the pandemic, we were not left untouched. However, the company kept its flow of revenues intact and maintained production running normally. Keeping pace with the rapidly changing global scenario, we relied more on online sales to keep production abreast.

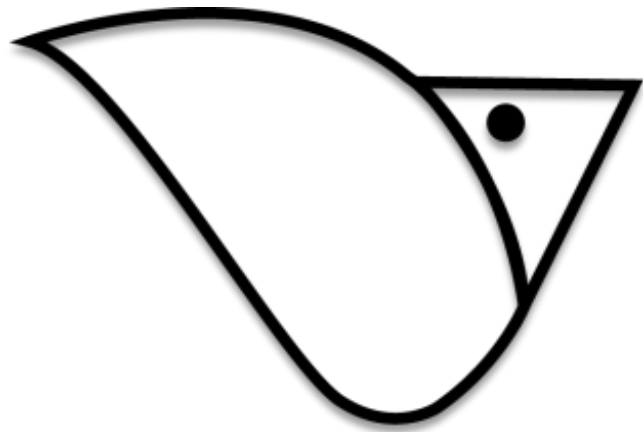

Digital Brassman: As part of our survival strategies, several of our operations have been entrusted digitally. Video conferencing, digital online showroom, participating in online International exhibitions are just a few to reflex our preparedness.

We are working with families & public healthcare providers in the battle against COVID. We have been organising various camps, distributing masks and food to the needy and donating PPE kits to the hospitals battling with limited resources facing a huge influx of COVID patients during the second wave of the pandemic this year.

All this is to ensure we give back to the society which helped us reach where we are.
